

Commendation for Good Samaritans

NORTH BRUNSWICK —

Police are looking for two men who gave a hand in order to publicly give them a hand in return.

The two male passers-by helped Patrolmen Jeff Smith and Howard Susan and Sgt. John Benora lift a car to free a pedestrian pinned underneath it at the Brunswick Shopping Center Sunday afternoon.

"We'd like to find these two men and give them a commendation," said Patrolman Michael Grasso, who is working on the investigation.

The victim, Mary Miller, 50, of Milltown was dragged some 35 feet by the car before she became lodged under it, Grasso said. She was listed yesterday in serious condition at Robert Wood Johnson University Hospital in New Brunswick.

Anyone with information on the two passers-by or on the accident itself is asked to call police at (201) 545-4300.
